

YELP REVIEWS OF THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Cynthia K.

Bellingham, WA

☆☆☆☆☆

Worst. Dedicatory. Funerary. Oration. Ever.

Dwayne F.

Rapid City, SD

☆☆☆☆☆

HARD pass. "Four score and seven?" Bro, if I wanted to do math I wouldn't have dropped out of high school.

Sandra N.

Bakersfield, CA

☆☆☆☆☆

I was actually stupid enough to stay to the end of this old dude's entire yawntastic snoozefest, and he didn't even MENTION the address in Gettysburg he was supposedly talking about. How'm I supposed to know where to go to in Gettysburg now?

Tony T.

Brooklyn, NY

★☆☆☆☆

“The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here.” Dude got THAT right. One star for the cool hat, though.

Abe L. Business Owner

So sorry :(

Hope we can do better next time!

Mariella S.

Cleveland, OH

★★★★☆

My sister Denise and I stopped by after work and sampled the delicious appetizer platter (Mmm! Queso!) Our server Tony was incredibly helpful and pointed us in the direction of the SUPER yummy Mango Margaritas and the Thursday night special — scrumptious Baby Back Ribs! Everything was totally dee-lish. We'll be back!

Abe L. Business Owner

Thank you! But I'm pretty sure you're talking about Applebee's.

Beauregard P.

Savannah, GA

☆☆☆☆☆

It is beyond the unfathomable to conceive that one could possibly extol any possible virtue within oratory such as this — rife with falsehood and needless calumny — that exalts the Yankee hordes who plundered our beloved Dixieland with felonious seizure and rapine, laying waste, without a modicum of discretion or decency, to the last true bastion of gentility and freedom remaining within this nation, once so abundant with promise and opportunity.

Abe L. Business Owner

Eat me.

If you enjoyed the Gettysburg address you might also enjoy Demosthenes' Third Philippic or Marcus Tullius Cicero's First Oration Against Catiline.